Lowell Dec. 19, 1851.

Dear Sir—

I found it necessary to return to Lowell in the first train this morning, intending, however, to have come up again in the noon train. I find my child quite ill on arriving home, and I shall not see you to-day. I thought I would write you, and as the hall was not used after 8 P.M., wish to know if you will take less than the $6.00 for the use of it. If you will write me, I will forward your due ——

Yours truly,

L. J. Fletcher.
